

APPRECIATION CUP

The Appreciation Cup was donated by the U.S. Cavalry to the NRA to be presented to the High Marine in the President's Match. The trophy was given in response to the donation in 1910 by the U.S. Marine Corps Team of the Cavalry Cup, which was to be won by the High Cavalryman in the President's Match. There is some discrepancy as to just when the Appreciation Cup--called at first the Marine Cup--was actually donated. A number of National Matches Programs from 1922 until the late 1930's indicate that the trophy was presented in 1913, but not put in competition until 1922. Other sources indicate that the trophy was presented in 1922, the first year it was presented to the High Marine.

Considerable confusion was caused by the presentation of the trophy which is now called the Appreciation Cup. Engraved upon it is the legend "The Marine Cup"; but in 1909, the officers of the USMC donated a cup which was known then as it is now as the "The Marine Corps Cup". Adding to the confusion is the original Cavalry Cup, which at first was called the "Marine's Cup", as it was the Marines who donated it. Making a bad situation even worse, the Appreciation Cup was called the Cavalry Cup as well from 1922 until 1929, when the name was changed to the Appreciation Cup, apparently to avoid the very confusion discussed above. Adding to the problem was the fact that the trophy photo in the National Matches programs from 1929 until 1935 was captioned as the "Cavalry Cup".

Match Conditions:

1922 The high-scoring Marine Corps competitor in the President's Match, fired during the National Matches.

1968-77 Trophy was not used in competition

1978 Two sighting shots and 20 shots for record, 200 yards rapid fire, sitting or kneeling from standing, Service Rifle or NRA Match Rifle with metallic sights.
