

WIMBLEDON CUP

The Wimbledon Cup is a silver tankard wrought by British silversmiths of the Victorian period. The trophy was presented in 1875 to the American rifle team attending the British matches at Wimbledon by Princess Louise, on behalf of the riflemen of Great Britain. Members of the American team competed among themselves for the trophy at Wimbledon; this match was won by Major Henry Fulton. The Wimbledon Cup was returned to the United States and placed in annual competition at Creedmoor as the trophy for a long range match open to any rifle.

Match Conditions:

- 1985 30 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle.
- 1903 20 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle.
- 1906 10 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle.
- 1907 20 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle.
- 1953 The Service Rifle or the Center Fire Rifle with no restrictions on caliber, sights or accessories.
- 1958 First scores over the course of two sighting shots and 20 shots for record at 1000 yards with the Service Rifle or NRA Match Rifle used to select shooters for a "shoot-off relay" over the same course of fire to determine match place awards.
- 1961 Shoot-off procedure changed as follows: All competitors on the "shoot-off relay" will fire two sighting shots and 10 record shots. All competitors then leave the firing line. The 10 high from each division will be immediately resquadded for a shot-by-shot elimination to determine the winner in each division.
- 1968 20 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle, any sights. No shoot-off.
- 1976 30 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle, any sights.
- 1977 20 shots at 1000 yards with any rifle, any sights.
- 1979 Highest scoring competitor from each relay fires three sighting shots and 10 record shots in a "shoot-off relay" to determine winner only.
- 1983 Shoot-off relay is scored without regard for X's. In case of a numerical tie for winner, winner (only) is determined by a shot-by-shot elimination shoot-off without regard for X's.
